Katherine MacDonald more gorgeous and enchanting than ever in role of regal beauty fighting love and poverty in Robert W. Chambers' big story, "The Turning Point." The great American Beauty enhances the writer's famous novel. On this same program offered by the Globe today is the opening episode of Wm. Fox's great Serial, "Bride 13." The entire fleet of the U. S. Navy war ships was lent Mr. Fox for the making of this great film which is without a parallel in the history of the art, and the equipment represented millions upon millions of dollars. It is a marvelous story of brilliant courage, thrilling adventure and steadfast devotion amid scenes on land and sea. An all star cast of dancing actors headed by John O'Brien (whose boyhood home was in Walpole, Vt.) Marguerite Clayton, and a host of other notables took part in "Bride 13." It's a knockout of a serial! Let's go!

For the first time the American public is given an opportunity to really visualize the dangers and hardships encountered by explorers seeking knowledge and information of the vast and heretofore unknown Antarctic regions. "The Bottom of the World," graphically depicts the perilous journey of the Shackleton expedition through the treacherous seas of the South Polar regions, from the time the little party left Buenos Ayres, October 27, 1914, until it arrived at Valparaiso, Chile, May 20, two years later. For two years the heroic members of the expedition battled against the ever-present dangers of the Polar Seas, completely cut off from the outside world. Although their ship, the "Endurance," was crushed by the ice more than 800 miles from the nearest civilized settlement, the entire party, without the loss of a man, was returned safely home. The whole picture throughout is more thrilling than the modern serials, containing more interest and suspense than the greatest of dramatic productions and more beautiful than the most picturesque scenic. Do not miss it yourself nor let the children. At the Please-U today only.

Mrs. Eva Dunn of Cabot spent a couple of days of this week with her niece, Mrs. Florence LaCross.
